

Internships Available

The Montana Democratic Party is seeking interns for summer 2008, or fall, but prefers applicants that will commit to stay through the November election. The party will structure internships cooperatively with applicants to meet their interests and allow them to get academic credit for the experience.

Duties:

Interns will play a key role in helping the party put on its delegate selection convention, and its' platform convention. In addition, each intern will be assigned a specific project or projects based on their skills and interests. Interns may be assigned projects on press, fundraising, research, or field organization. All interns will be required to help provide some general administrative support for the Montana Democratic Headquarters in Helena. All interns will be provided campaign skills training and afforded the opportunity to work with the campaigns of statewide candidates.

Stipend:

Interns will be provided a stipend of $1000 per month. Travel and out of pocket expenses will be reimbursed.
